

Steve Houser ~ Life Speech

Who will speak up for the little ones, helpless and half abandoned? They've got a life to choose, life they don't want to lose.

I've got to speak up. Won't you? Won't you?

Won't me, or I or whomever else.

I will speak up.

I feel I've been dull of hearing for the past several years. We must reach down to help those who need help.

There is not a life before birth that God has not created.

Where is the safest place on earth supposed to be? A mother's womb.

Abortion is a crime in God's eyes, my eyes and millions of others. Why are they not speaking their convictions? I feel there are always excuses too numerous to mention. But none are valid when it comes to the gift of life which God has given and man has snuffed, taken by choice, deemed insignificant and misused, abused, held in contempt.

There is not a life before birth that God has not created.
